Little India

Little India is the heart of Singapore's Indian community. Your senses will definitely come alive once you enter this colourful ethnic area, which used to be just marshland and grazing fields for cattle. Notice how its history is captured in the road names. A walk through Little India Arcade and Campbell Lane will convince you that you are in the heart of India. Embark on a walking tour and look out for the checkpoints along the above recommended route and discover the rich cultural history of Little India.

How can a FREE tour be one of the best walking tours?

Simple, all our specially hand-picked Guides work on a "tips only" basis, with no additional compensation from the company. Guides have got to be good to command a healthy tip, and so the highest quality is guaranteed! We firmly believe gratuity should be given voluntarily in direct proportion to the quality of tour delivery and budget of the guests. Other paid walking tours range from $30-$40. Value for money goes a long way and satisfied customers tip what they think the tour is worth.

Tipping Guide

While tipping is voluntary, many travellers often ask what is the 'norm'. So here is the guideline for each guest after the tour...

- | | |
|------|---|
| $0 | If you regretted joining and ran off half way |
| $10 | If you thought it was just ordinary |
| $20 | If you thought the guide was quite a good story teller |
| $25 | If you were totally impressed and thought it was better than paid walking tours |
